Welcome to the first issue of the newsletter of the World Council of Anthropological Associations (WCAA). The purpose of the newsletter is to communicate with the Associations’ delegates, and with other interested anthropologists, about the WCAA and its activities, to improve communication and foster linkages between anthropological associations, and to provide information about the sum of anthropological activity globally.

The newsletter will be a digest of contributions sent by anthropological associations, and as such it will rely on your support to generate most of its content. We are requesting that each of the member associations send us a one paragraph summary of a story about anthropology in your jurisdiction (not journal articles), along with the link to the full text of the story, on a quarterly basis. The newsletter will be sent to all delegates, and will allow them to quickly scan through the contents for items of interest and access the content they choose. The newsletter will also be available on the WCAA website. Delegates will be able to forward the newsletter to their membership, post it on their own websites, or post or forward selected links from the digest.

We are not asking you to generate new content. Rather, if you have an interesting story, news, or an announcement on your website, or in your electronic newsletter, that you would like to feature, you can send it to us with a brief summary for the digest. We will assemble the newsletter and send it to all delegates to the WCAA. We aim to send out the newsletter on a quarterly basis, so you can expect to see calls for contributions throughout the year. Contributions should be sent directly to the editors, Carmen Silvia de Moraes Rial at rial@cfh.ufsc.br, and Lorne Holyoak at ltholyoak@yahoo.ca

DEAR WCAA DELEGATES, DEAR FELLOW ANTHROPOLOGISTS,

Following the elections at the WCAA Biennial Meeting in Taipei on 1-2 October 2014, and electronic ratification of their results, a new WCAA Organizing Committee was constituted in November 2014. We once again thank the members of the previous Organizing Committee whose term ended at this point, namely the former Chair Michal Buchowski and Deputy Chair Setha Low, as well as Andrew Mugsy Spiegel, Carlos Caroso, and Leslie Aiello, for all their invaluable contributions to the WCAA.

The new WCAA Organizing Committee comprises nine members, namely: Vesna Vucinic Neskovic (Chair), Chandana Mathur (Deputy Chair), Lorne Holyoak (Secretary), David Shankland (Treasurer), Isaac Nyamongo (documents on special issues), Gordon Mathews (Deja Lu and website activities), Soumenra Patnaik (new membership applications), Carmen Rial (information exchange between WCAA member associations), and Greg Acciaioli (undesignated member for new projects and publications).

Our main priority in the coming two years consists of strengthening the position of anthropology worldwide. We will also work to build closer relationships between anthropological associations and their members.

The WCAA Organizing Committee has identified a few domains central to its activity, some of which represent continuation of previous ones in a modified form, and others that are novel.

THESE ARE THE ACTIVITIES WE WILL BE WORKING ON:

- Expanding the WCAA network to increase the number of member associations from insufficiently represented regions, such as Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

- Intensifying communication among the member associations by introducing the WCAA Newsletter.

- Continuing the online publishing of Deja Lu, the WCAA open access journal.

- Spreading the world anthropologies ideas by organizing WCAA panels and roundtables related to crucial intellectual and political issues at major macro-regional anthropological conferences.

- Keeping the tradition of direct, face-to-face business meetings with the WCAA delegates, by organizing annual and biennial meetings at designated international conferences.

- Continuing to issue public statements to support anthropological organizations, institutions, and programs whose existence is at stake.

- Upholding the activities of the WCAA Ethics Task Force and Advocacy and Outreach Activities Task Force.

- Implementing a new, three-year project called “Global Survey of Anthropological Practice”, with the aim of developing a survey questionnaire which would present the state of affairs in different countries regarding: (a) educational, research, museological, and applied activities, (b) anthropologists’ employment, status, criteria for advancement etc. (in academic, research and applied domains), as well as (c) non-university education.

- Developing a partnership with the IUAES, the major international organization with a complementary organizational structure and goals with WCAA. The WCAA-IUAES Task Group discussing future relations between the two organizations was constituted during the IUAES World Congress in Manchester (August 2013) and expanded at the IUAES Intercongress in Chiba City (May 2014) and in its aftermath. It presently consists of 10 members and is co-convened by Faye Harrison and Vesna Vucinic Neskovic.

We are looking forward to your further submissions as well as reactions to this first issue of the WCAA Newsletter.

Sincerely yours, Vesna Vucinic Neskovic

WCAA ORGANIZED PANELS AT INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES IN THE FIRST PART OF 2015

As initially planned, in the first half of 2015, the WCAA organized four events at conferences of the WCAA member associations. They took place at the: AAI meeting in Cork, Ireland (March), CASCA meeting in Quebec City, Canada (May), SIEF Conference in Zagreb, Croatia (June), and IUAES Intercongress in Bangkok, Thailand.

At the AAI meeting, David Shankland, RAI, gave a talk entitled “Anthropology and Its Institutions: The Royal Anthropological Institute”. This plenary session was chaired by Chandana Mathur (National U. of Ireland, Maynooth).

The Conference program may be viewed at: http://www.anthropologyireland.org/images/conference/Schedule-Final.pdf

At the CASCA meeting, Lorne Holyoak organized a WCAA roundtable entitled “The Global Practice of Anthropology” with 6 participants. The participants were Noel Salazar (U. of Leuven), Noel Dyck (Simon Fraser U.), Deirdre Meintel (U. of Montreal), Marie-Francoise Guedon (U. Ottawa), Monica Heller (U. of Toronto), and Lorne Holyoak. The discussion was based on the question: What is your experience in anthropology globally, and how is that experience reflected in your own practice? The conference program may be viewed at: http://www.casca2015.ant.ulaval.ca/en/program

At the SIEF conference, Vesna Vucinic Neskovic and Klaus Roth organized a WCAA panel “Is there a Sense of Community Uniting Anthropology, Ethnology and Folklore Today?” with 5 papers, given by Vesna Vucinic Neskovic and Klaus Roth (U. of Belgrade, and Institute of European Ethnology in Munich), Michael Vimont (U. of Oxford), Ignacio Fernandez de Mata (U. of Burgos), Vassiliki Chryssanthopolou (National and Capodistrian University of Athens), and Laurent Fournier (U. of Nantes).

The WCAA panel program may be viewed at: http://www.nomadit.co.uk/sief/sief2015/panels.php5?PanelID=3522

At the IUAES Intercongress, Chandana Mathur and Vesna Vucinic Neskovic organized a WCAA roundtable “Do Good Fences make Good Neighbours?: Perspectives on the Anthropology-Sociology Relationship from Plural Global Vantage Points” with 11 presentations. The participants were Greg Acciaioli (U. of Western Australia), Vesna Vucinic Neskovic (U. of Belgrade), Andrei Golovnev (Institute of History and Archaeology, Ekaterinburg), Maria Mangahas (U. of Philippines), Carmen Rial and Miriam Grossi (Universidade Federal de Santa Catarina), Michael Goldsmith (U. of Waikato, Hamilton), Ted Hammann (U. of Nebraska-Lincoln) and Victor Zuniga (U. of Monterrey), Gordon Mathews (The Chinese U. of Hong Kong), Chandana Mathur (National U. of Irenand Maynooth), Soumenra Patnaik (U. of Delhi), and Michal Buchowski (Adam Mickiewicz U. in Poznan).

The roundtable program may be viewed at: http://socanth.tu.ac.th/iuaes2015/2015/02/fp03-wcaa-roundtable-do-good-fences-make-good-neighbours-perspectives-on-the-anthropology-sociology-relationship-from-plural-global-vantage-points/

The participants in the WCAA sponsored panels included WCAA international delegates, but also members of the host and other associations. All the WCAA panels were well attended and invited interesting discussions. We are very grateful to our colleagues in the four hosting associations, AAI, CASCA, SIEF, and IUAES, especially to their presidents and executive committee members, for the opportunity given to the WCAA to be present at their meetings.
WCAA ACTIVITIES AT THE IUAES INTERCONGRESS IN BANGKOK

WCAA’s principal meeting designated for the year 2015 took place at the IUAES Intercongress in Bangkok, Thailand, on 15-18 July.

WCAA had a number of events at the Bangkok Intercongress. The main event was the WCAA Delegates Meeting, attended by about 20 participants. The WCAA Delegates Meeting Agenda included Organizing Committee members’ reports, but most importantly reports on the state of affairs of the “Global Survey of Anthropological Practice” project, and on the negotiations on the relations with the IUAES (see the Agenda). The Minutes, including individual reports, will be placed on the WCAA website later. In addition, three WCAA Organizing Committee meetings were held, as well as two IUAES-WCAA executives meetings.

A WCAA roundtable entitled “Do Good Fences make Good Neighbours?: Perspectives on the Anthropology-Sociology Relationship from Plural Global Vantage Points”, took place within two sessions, and was very well attended. Most of the WCAA Organizing Committee members and delegates presented papers in regular Intercongress panels as well.

We are grateful to the 2015 IUAES Intercongress Organizing Committee from the Thammasat University, chaired by the Dean of the Faculty of Sociology and Anthropology, Prof. Anusorn Unno, for the excellent organization of the conference as well as for their warm hospitality. We also express our thanks to the IUAES Executive Committee, especially to Secretary General Junji Koizumi, for helping us coordinate the WCAA activities with those of the Intercongress.

A WCAA Symposium on the “Global Survey of Anthropological Practice” will also take place there, as well as at least one WCAA organized panel. Specific dates and more details will be announced later.
Law for the Professional Practice of Anthropology
Throughout 2014 the Argentinean Anthropological Association (CGA) committed its efforts to a broad discussion around a Law for the Professional Practice of Anthropology in Argentina, in order to legally protect and regulate our professional practice — regulation that other professions in the field of the social sciences such as sociology, psychology or social work have already accomplished. To this end, the CGA carried out a survey among Argentinean anthropologists, and it also organized and coordinated meetings in several congresses as well as specific panels at universities that teach anthropology as a major. The CGA’s proposal of promoting a nationwide Law in order to define the profile of professional anthropologists, its duties and rights, and forms of evaluation and sanction of ethical misconduct has been so far widely shared by members of the local anthropological community.

CALL FOR PAPERS

Between the Indian Ocean and the Pacific, peoples and lands separated by water have also been integrated through the same medium, enabling transit of persons, commodities and ideas by boats bridging the ports and harbors, moorages and river systems serving as nexus for trade and migration, through to inland waters, wetlands and upstream forest, or to lands beyond the horizon. This conference hopes to create an interdisciplinary regional forum to discuss issues and debates revolving around maritime contexts as structured and structuring fluid zones of spatial connection and separation, and within which contemporary insecurities and vulnerabilities communities must find ways to keep afloat—hence Dagat ug Kinabuhî, which means ‘the sea and life [lifeways/strategies]’ in the Visayan languages.
We invite individual paper, poster, short film/video, and panel proposals relating to the conference theme.
